Making a Difference through Adaptive Sport in Saskatchewan Working Together, for All

Sask Sport Inc. is investing in the future of Adaptive and Parasport in Saskatchewan. Throughout the coming months, Sask Sport will collaborate with provincial sport governing bodies and identified affiliate stakeholders to explore ways to champion efficiency and sustainable practices in the Saskatchewan adaptive sport system. This joint effort aims to create a strong and sustainable Adaptive Sport Strategy that supports the goals and objectives of the 2017-2021 Sask Sport Strategic Plan, notably the areas of enhanced participation, excellence, capacity and collaboration in Saskatchewan sport.

“This is a tremendous opportunity for sport to work together by engaging in this process to proactively advance our system,” says Darren Wilcox, Chair, Sask Sport Inc. “With a strong inclusive Adaptive Sport Strategy, we can increase participation in sport at all levels and for all abilities. Our collaboration and collective expertise can present new and proficient ways to better engage Saskatchewan’s communities with sport.”

Sport Consultant, Beverley Dickinson, will guide and facilitate the process. Beverley holds a Bachelor of Physical Education degree from the University of Ottawa, and has extensive experience in Sport Management and Human Resources—specifically, in best business practices, board governance, and coach education at the local, provincial and national levels. Beverley has a passion for sport, and a desire to make sport available and fun to all in our province. She believes, “Sport is a cornerstone to an individual’s personal development,” and is excited to work with everyone on such an important endeavor.

More information about the Adaptive Sport Strategy process will be available at the upcoming Saskatoon (October 23) and Regina (October 25) membership meetings. In the meantime, if you have any questions, please contact Rob Kennedy, Manager of Provincial Sport Development for Sask Sport, at 306-975-0809 or rkennedy@sasksport.sk.ca.
